Show That President Has No Possible Chance at Polls in November.
Regulars, on Other Hand, Have Taken Polls of Primary States and Can Show That Roosevelt Is Constantly Losing Ground—All Eyes on Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Theodore Roosevelt's third party national convention, which opens here Monday, is attracting not only the attention of all politicians in this country, but of statesmen and publicists of other countries, who are taking a keen interest in the efforts to establish a new political party in the United States. At this time it would be hazardous to venture an opinion as to the success or failure of the movement.

The close friends of President Taft belittle it and predict only an ephemeral bearing on the Republican national situation now and hereafter.
The enthusiastic Roosevelt adherents insist that within 40 days after the Roosevelt third party is established the presidential race will be between Roosevelt, the candidate of this convention, and Governor Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic aspirant, and that President Taft will be a poor third on election night, Nov. 5.

The supporters of President Taft predict, and friends of Governor Wilson assert, that the results of this Roosevelt convention will resemble the ripple on the political waters
faintly observed in the national campaign of 1896, when Palmer and Buckner were the gold Democratic national ticket and got in all the country but 135,000 votes. Such predictions and assertions can not represent the real sentiments of the Taft or Wilson national campaigners.
At the moment there is but one basis
of calculation on which the Roosevelt movement can be estimated. It is the vote which General James B.
Weaver of Iowa received in the campaign of 1892 as the candidate of the Populist party for president. In that campaign General Weaver received 1,041,925 votes in the country and 22
votes in the electoral college. General Weaver's vote in the electoral college that year did not affect the result.
The total vote in the college was 444,
of which Cleveland received 277, Harrison 145 and Weaver 22. It requires a majority of the electoral college to elect a president. The majority of the college in 1892 was 223. The electoral college for 1912 numbers 531 electoral votes, of which 266 will be necessary to elect either Taft, Wilson or Roosevelt.

Refer to Primary Vote.

Disinterested observers of the Roosevelt third party movement, in an effort to arrive at a conclusion, over that they can not forget that in the 12 Republican states in which Republican primaries are established by law, the total vote cast against Mr. Taft was 1,513,639, and the vote cast for Mr. Taft was 758,117.
These states combined have 180
electoral votes. In 1908 President Taft had 321 electoral votes. The loss of 66 votes would beat him for the presidency. Of the primary states
the Democrats in 1910 carried: Ohio, 14 votes; New Jersey, 14; Massachusetts, 18; North Dakota, 5; Oregon, 6. Total, 66. The loss of these five states alone would beat Mr. Taft for the presidency.

In 1910 the Democrats also carried the Republican states of Maine, 6
votes; West Virginia, 8; Indiana, 15; Missouri, 18; Idaho, 4; New York, 45.
Total, 96 electoral votes. If he were to lose no other votes than those of these 11 states, which the Democrats carried in 1910, Mr. Taft could hope for no more than 103 electoral votes
next November.

With the foregoing facts and figures supporting their contention, the Roosevelt campaigners on the ground,
Senator Dixon, George W. Perkins,
Albert J. Beveridge and others proclaim that it is utterly idle for the Taft managers or for laymen sur-

A Tea Party In the Ocean, the Latest Thing In Summer Fads

Photos by American Press Association.

MISS CHARLOTTE VAN CORTLAND NICOLL, a New York society girl and a niece of DeLancey Nicoll, a well known lawyer, is the originator of a novel method of entertaining guests at her family's summer home at Long Beach, N. Y. It is a tea party in the ocean.
The idea has attracted wide attention and promises to be widely copied. Hygienically the fad will win praise from all quarters. It is safe and sane. Miss Nicoll devised a tea tray, a seaworthy craft with a high poop deck, to hold the teacups and commodious deck space forward and amidships for plates of sandwiches and cakes. The high poop deck protects the tea, and if a wave washes over the bow the success of the affair is not interfered with since the sandwiches need a little salt anyway. Miss Nicoll's tea parties are a regular Friday afternoon event. She and her guests swim for half an hour before the tray is launched. By that time the exercise has furnished an appetite, and the serving of tea in the water obviates coming out for a "bite."

Cedar Point, O., Aug. 3.—Without

was held at the Breakers. Judge E.
B. King of Sandusky, toastmaster, was applauded when introduced by saying a "suggestion from a Demo-

Steel Trust Is Censured For Many Ills

Is Blamed For Most of Country's Ills
In Stanley Report.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The report of the majority of the committee of the house of representatives, directed more than a year ago to investigate the United States Steel corporation, was submitted to the house by Representative Stanley of Kentucky, chairman of the committee.

J. P. Morgan and his associates are held up as being the beneficiaries of enormous profits realized from the over-capitalization of the subsidiary companies of the Steel corporation and later of the corporation itself.

Former President Roosevelt is indicated for making the control of the Steel trust absolute and is charged with being responsible for the gigantic stature which the trust has attained.

The United States Steel corporation is flayed as an enemy of organized labor, accused of lowering the sociological conditions of its employees and of contributing to American industry workmen and work methods
un-American and foreign to the best interests of labor.

The activity of the corporation in politics is laid bare and its influence described, and the Steel trust as a tariff beneficiary and its part in the making of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act are touched upon by the Democrats.

ported That Attorneys Wrote Action's Ruse Fails.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Daisy Grace was found not guilty of the charge of shooting her husband.
When the verdict was read by the foreman she cried out, "God bless you, gentlemen." Then she approached each of the 12 jurors and gave them thanks. "I feel like hugging and kissing you all," said Mrs.
Grace. "I trusted you all the time.
I knew you would not believe what they said about me."

It developed that Mrs. Daisy Grace's remarkable story of the shooting of her husband was a carefully prepared declamation, pruned, amended and polished by her lawyers, and as carefully rehearsed as a dramatic offering by a professional actress. For over two months Mrs.
Grace rehearsed the statement until she was letter perfect. There were 8,000 words in the statement, but
Mrs. Grace never faltered once during its delivery.

Story Generally Believed.

Mrs. Grace's testimony had a tremendous effect on the jury and its main statements were generally credited, especially those relating to the large sums she had lavished on Grace and his attentions to other women.

The bringing of Grace into court on a stretcher was done by the prosecution in an effort to cause the accused wife to break down, but it failed. With her husband paralyzed from the wound she was accused of inflicting, gazing at her with a cynical grin, she spoke without falter.

The jury was out only a short time before returning a verdict of acquittal.

Eugene Grace was not in court. He was taken back to his home in Newnan, and there heard of the verdict.
"I don't care what the jury said," declared the paralyzed husband, "she's guilty as hell, and she knows it."

Grace announced that he will make a statement about the case and at once sue for divorce.

Food Supply Arrives For Refugees

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 3.—Distribution of food supplies to the Mexican refugees now in temporary exile here from Mexico commenced when the United States army opened a commissary distributing office down town.
Meats, potatoes, salt, sugar, coffee and canned milk made the articles of distribution.

There is still much uneasiness here about the Americans at the Dolores mines, who can not reach a railroad to get out, and also about the American employees on the Pearson-Pache-cho railroad, who had to flee overland for the New Mexico line when the rebels took their provisions, arms and animals. The fact that congress decided to pay the transportation of the refugees to their former homes will relieve the situation here, as many of them will soon leave. Two hundred Mormons left for various Mormon communities in Arizona.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

It is to be taken as a matter of course that as each succeeding day rolls around in its turn between the present day and the day on which the annual County Fair opens, we will hear more and more about the splendid attractions which will be staged for the amusement of thousands who will attend the fair.

That all the published statements will be mainly if not literally correct may also be assured. There never has been any lack of attractions at the County Fair and this year will prove no exception to the general rule. While there always are a few people who complain and some years their complaints about lack of attractions is louder than in other years, yet it is safe to assert that never has the exhibition been worth less than the price of admission asked.

The questionable amusements and shows of the old fashioned fair have gone forever and each succeeding year has seen the county fairs improve in tone.

The chief attraction at any fair is the opportunity to meet and talk with one's neighbors and friends to find out just what all are doing in the way of work in the agricultural sections, what experiments have been tried during the past year and what the degree of success or failure has been. A sort of holding the pulse of the community, exchange of ideas, social and business.

The opportunity for people from widely separated sections of the county to meet and compare notes at the fair is unquestioned and is alone worth many times the price of admission. Then too, the city merchant with his improved appliances for use on the farm can get in touch with the men who buy his goods, and the men who buy, can see all kinds, broaden their knowledge and reap a rich harvest of information.

The horse racing, free from objectionable gambling features, is just enough relaxation to put a sparkle on the whole entertainment.

All may rest assured that the fair will be well worth the money and will be well attended.

LET'S NOT WAIT.

Present condition in regard to disposing of the city's sewerage has become acute and in view of the emphatic orders of the State Board of Health, shall be made no worse at least.

For many, many months the more thoughtful of our citizens have seen the time approaching when either nature or the higher authorities would check the growth of frightful conditions.

It is remarkable that a city as large as Washington would permit such conditions to exist without an effort to better them and it is almost paralyzing that it would be attempted to make bad conditions worse.

The State Board of Health has set its official foot square down on the proposal to add to our burdens and dangers to health. It is to be hoped that if it becomes necessary to bring about affirmative action for relief from that which we now endure, a supplemental order will be issued.

More than that, however, it is to be hoped that the city will of its own accord take up the conditions as they exist and deal with them in a manner which will insure relief. Nearly two years ago the agitation for an adequate sewer system for Washington was begun, but so far, aside from the preparation of plans and specifications and estimates of cost, no substantial progress has been made.

Now the State Board of Health says that at least, we must not make a bad condition worse.

Good!

Why can't our good people wake up and assert themselves and do voluntarily that which the law will shortly compel them to do any way.

If Washington did do that she would sustain a better reputation, her citizens would have better health and we would all feel more satisfied about it than we would if ordered to do work and compelled to do work which our mind and our conscience has long told us we should do.

Queer Tangle in Many of Marriage Laws

By MOORFIELD STORRY
Boston, Mass.

I am very much interested, as every good citizen must be, in promoting the adoption of uniform laws on the subject of marriage and divorce throughout the United States.

The present situation is very dangerous, for persons who are legally married according to the laws of one state may find that in another state their marriage is not recognized, and the effect upon the status of children may be most disastrous.

The consequence is that mistakes in this matter often fall upon persons who are entirely innocent, and great confusion is likely to exist in regard to the delicate relation of husband and wife or parent and child, while, of course, the descent of property may be very much embarrassed by questions arising from the conflict of laws on this subject.

There is a strong movement to promote an organization in the various states, and on some subjects this uniformity has been secured.

I should be glad to see a strong public opinion organized, which will insist upon uniformity in the laws which regulate marriage and divorce, and I trust that any efforts made in this direction will be successful.

Poetry-Today

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH OHIO?

What's the matter with Ohio?
There isn't a doggoned thing,
With the winter's snow or the winter's blow,
Or the showers that come in the spring;
With the flowers that bloom in the summer,
Or the crops that we reap in the fall.
What's the matter with Ohio?
There isn't a thing at all.

What's the matter with Ohio?
Not a thing that we know of,
In the soil we beat underneath our feet
Or the sky that smiles above;
On the daisies that sprinkle the meadow
Or the sumac that brightens the hill;
In the lilies that bloom in our gardens
Or the violets that hide by the rill.

What's the matter with Ohio?
Not a thing; how could there be?
She's the brightest gem in the diadem
Of this dear land of the free.
Though some leave discontented
And wander afar from the track,
We feel no concern, we know they'll return
And seem mighty glad to get back.

What's the matter with Ohio?
Not a thing as stated above;
She beams with sisterly affection,
She teems with brotherly love;
She's a stop-over station toward glory,
An Eden of purest delight,
So if anyone happens to ask you,
Just tell them Ohio's all right.

Sewer Opened Roots Removed

The sewer leading from the Fountain to one of the main sewers, intercepting the surplus water from the fountain and which has been out of commission for several months, causing the water from the fountain to overflow across the sidewalk, is undergoing repairs.

A large trench has been cut across the court house lawn parallel to the row of park benches, and it was discovered that a root had penetrated a small opening in the sewer and filled it up for a distance of fully ten feet. The roots filled the sewer so closely that no water could penetrate.

Workmen have been replacing the sewer and repairing it so that no roots can penetrate.

Sabina Camp Meeting Soon

As usual a great many Washington citizens will be interested in the annual conference of the M. P. church to be held at Sabina on the beautiful camp grounds August 22 to September 1, and a splendid program has been arranged.

While every day will witness a good program there will be four days deserving special mention. Music day is on August 22, and includes a concert by Neddermeyer's Band and Euclid Male Quartet. Prof. D. Lee Fitzpatrick lectures on the 25th and 28th, the latter, Young People's Day, also brings the Jones Concert Co. September 1 is the closing day and will have a special program of much excellence. Prof. Ross H. Stover, as musical director, will be present throughout the meeting. Ample hotel and livery accommodations on the grounds at low rates. A good restaurant will be operated. Season tickets if purchased prior to August 20, 50c; after that date 60c. Contractor's Wise Rule.

Among a crowd that gazed skyward at the construction of the Woolworth building at Broadway, Barclay street and Park place, the iron frame of which now reaches about forty stories, was an individual with a broad brow, relates the New York Tribune. There was no mistake about the country whence he came, and it was evident that he had not been here long. With eyes bulging, hands behind his back and mouth open, he stood watching the human flies as they moved about, feasting on the work that was being done at such a dizzy height. He finally turned to the man at his side and touched him on the shoulder. "Say," he remarked, "that sure must be dangerous work. But tell me, do many of those fellows fall off?" "Very few," came the reply from the bystander. "And how is that?" asked the Irishman. "Well," the other replied, "the contractor makes it a rule that he will not hire again a man that once falls from above that story."

Wrong License.

In some states of America the mayor of a town generally combines within his own person the functions of postmaster, coroner, inspector of nuisances, registrar of births, deaths and marriages, and so on.

One day a young couple approached the much-harassed official and intimated their desire to get married. "Guess that'll cost a dollar," said the mayor, and there and then the deed was done.

Late that night, as they were about to embark on the sleeper for New York, a little bullet-headed urchin rushed up to them in a great state of excitement.

"Say, you two," he yelled, "I guess you'd better hold on a bit. Pa's made a mistake; you've got a dog license!" —London (Eng.) Answers.

Former Convicts Arrested

Sandusky, O., Aug. 3.—Frank Tierney, the first man sentenced to the electric chair in Ohio, whose sentence was commuted and who was finally pardoned; Edward Youtz, ex-convict, and Fred Jasper and George Bernklow, former prisoners in the state reformatory, were arrested here on burglary charges. The men were captured in an abandoned hulk in Sandusky bay, after a liquor store in this city had been entered. Much of the stolen goods was found in their possession.

Predictions Come True

Beef Prices Soar When Trust Dissolution Is Completed.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—The warning issued to consumers after the "dissolution of the beef trust" that meat prices would be higher has been fulfilled, and beef at the local stockyards was sold at the highest prices ever attained here, the figures representing a new world's record for altitude in beef prices.

A scarcity of cattle was given as the cause for beefs selling at $9.95 per 100, and a prediction of $10 cattle for next week was made by dealers. Charles S. Jones, president of the live stock exchange, issued a plea for the raising of more cattle to supply the increasing demand.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

It is to be taken as a matter of course that as each succeeding day rolls around in its turn between the present day and the day on which the annual County Fair opens, we will hear more and more about the splendid attractions which will be staged for the amusement of thousands who will attend the fair.

That all the published statements will be mainly if not literally correct may also be assured. There never has been any lack of attractions at the County Fair and this year will prove no exception to the general rule. While there always are a few people who complain and some years their complaints about lack of attractions is louder than in other years, yet it is safe to assert that never has the exhibition been worth less than the price of admission asked.

The questionable amusements and shows of the old fashioned fair have gone forever and each succeeding year has seen the county fairs improve in tone.

The chief attraction at any fair is the opportunity to meet and talk with one's neighbors and friends to find out just what all are doing in the way of work in the agricultural sections, what experiments have been tried during the past year and what the degree of success or failure has been. A sort of holding the pulse of the community, exchange of ideas, social and business.

The opportunity for people from widely separated sections of the county to meet and compare notes at the fair is unquestioned and is alone worth many times the price of admission. Then too, the city merchant with his improved appliances for use on the farm can get in touch with the men who buy his goods, and the men who buy, can see all kinds, broaden their knowledge and reap a rich harvest of information.

The horse racing, free from objectionable gambling features, is just enough relaxation to put a sparkle on the whole entertainment.

All may rest assured that the fair will be well worth the money and will be well attended.

LET'S NOT WAIT.

Present condition in regard to disposing of the city's sewerage has become acute and in view of the emphatic orders of the State Board of Health, shall be made no worse at least.

For many, many months the more thoughtful of our citizens have seen the time approaching when either nature or the higher authorities would check the growth of frightful conditions.

It is remarkable that a city as large as Washington would permit such conditions to exist without an effort to better them and it is almost paralyzing that it would be attempted to make bad conditions worse.

The State Board of Health has set its official foot square down on the proposal to add to our burdens and dangers to health. It is to be hoped that if it becomes necessary to bring about affirmative action for relief from that which we now endure, a supplemental order will be issued.

More than that, however, it is to be hoped that the city will of its own accord take up the conditions as they exist and deal with them in a manner which will insure relief. Nearly two years ago the agitation for an adequate sewer system for Washington was begun, but so far, aside from the preparation of plans and specifications and estimates of cost, no substantial progress has been made.

Now the State Board of Health says that at least, we must not make a bad condition worse.

Good!

Why can't our good people wake up and assert themselves and do voluntarily that which the law will shortly compel them to do any way.

If Washington did do that she would sustain a better reputation, her citizens would have better health and we would all feel more satisfied about it than we would if ordered to do work and compelled to do work which our mind and our conscience has long told us we should do.

Queer Tangle in Many of Marriage Laws

By MOONFIELD STORRY
Boston, Mass.

I am very much interested, as every good citizen must be, in promoting the adoption of uniform laws on the subject of marriage and divorce throughout the United States.

The present situation is very dangerous, for persons who are legally married according to the laws of one state may find that in another state their marriage is not recognized, and the effect upon the status of children may be most disastrous.

The consequence is that mistakes in this matter often fall upon persons who are entirely innocent, and great confusion is likely to exist in regard to the delicate relation of husband and wife or parent and child, while, of course, the descent of property may be very much embarrassed by questions arising from the conflict of laws on this subject.

There is a strong movement to promote an organization in the various states, and on some subjects this uniformity has been secured.

I should be glad to see a strong public opinion organized, which will insist upon uniformity in the laws which regulate marriage and divorce, and I trust that any efforts made in this direction will be successful.

Poetry—Today

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH OHIO?

What's the matter with Ohio?
There isn't a doggone thing,
With the winter's snow or the winter's blow,
Or the showers that come in the spring;
With the flowers that bloom in the summer,
Or the crops that we reap in the fall.
What's the matter with Ohio?
There isn't a thing at all.

What's the matter with Ohio?
Not a thing that we know of,
In the soil we beat underneath our feet
Or the sky that smiles above;
On the daisies that sprinkle the meadow
Or the sumac that brightens the hill;
In the lilies that bloom in our gardens
Or the violets that hide by the rill.

What's the matter with Ohio?
Not a thing; how could there be?
She's the brightest gem in the diadem
Of this dear land of the free.
Though some leave discontented
And wander afar from the track,
We feel no concern, we know they'll return
And seem mighty glad to get back.

What's the matter with Ohio?
Not a thing as stated above;
She beams with sisterly affection,
She teems with brotherly love;
She's a stop-over station toward glory,
An Eden of purest delight,
So if anyone happens to ask you,
Just tell them Ohio's all right.

Sewer Opened Roots Removed

The sewer leading from the Fountain to one of the main sewers, intercepting the surplus water from the fountain and which has been out of commission for several months, causing the water from the fountain to overflow across the sidewalk, is undergoing repairs.

A large trench has been cut across the court house lawn parallel to the row of park benches, and it was discovered that a root had penetrated a small opening in the sewer and filled it up for a distance of fully ten feet. The roots filled the sewer so closely that no water could penetrate.

Workmen have been replacing the sewer and repairing it so that no roots can penetrate.

WARNING IS ISSUED TO THE OTHER NATIONS

Senate Passes Lodge Resolution Behind Closed Doors.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The United States senate issued a warning to the nations of the world against encroachment upon the continents of North and South America. The United States will not see without grave concern, said the senate, any suitable naval or military site pass into control of a foreign corporation, when such possession might threaten the communications or the safety of the United States.

So vital were the issues discussed in the Lodge resolution, which set forth the policy of the United States as to points situated like Magdalena Bay, in Lower California, that the doors of the senate were closed for three hours while the resolution was debated in secret session. It finally passed with only four votes against it.

NO MORE RUNNING SORES.

Brown's Drug Store Sells an Ointment Called San Cura That is a Positive Cure.

It matters not how old, persistent or poisonous the sore is, San-Cura Ointment, the powerful antiseptic, will draw out every particle of poison and promptly heal the sore.

So sure of this are the owners, the Thompson Medical Co., that they have authorized Brown's Drug Store to return the purchase price if San Cura Ointment doesn't do all this paper says it will do. No fairer offer was ever made.

B. D. Dutton, Titusville, Pa., says: "My arm was covered with twenty-four running sores and swollen to twice its natural size. San Cura Ointment removed the pain, drew out the poison and healed the arm in an incredibly short time. It is the greatest compound for healing I ever used."

The mighty healing powers of San Cura Ointment are little short of marvelous. It gives instant relief, and is guaranteed to cure salt rheum, eczema, bleeding, itching or protruding piles, ulcers, boils, carbuncles, chapped hands, and chilblains. For cuts, burns, scalds and bruises, it stops all pain quickly and heals promptly. 25c and 50c a jar. By mail on receipt of price, if your druggist is out of it or does not keep it.

San Cura Soap.

For tender, itching or irritable skin, wash with San Cura, the only antiseptic soap that soothes and heals, and kills all germs of disease. It will cure pimples, blackheads, and make the complexion clear and attractive. 25c at Brown's Drug Store. Mail orders for San Cura Ointment and Soap filled by Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.

Bass That Didn't Bite.

Police Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo, of New York, was praising the efficiency of the New York police force.

"The force wasn't always so efficient," he said. "In Byrne's day police protection ended at Forty-second street; you could do as you pleased after that. But the crook who should now try to do as he pleased anywhere at all in New York would be as badly left in his expectation of immunity as my friend Smith was left the other day in his dozen bass."

"Smith the other day went fishing. He caught nothing, so on the way back home he telephoned to his provision dealer to send a dozen bass round to his house."

"He got home late himself. His wife said to him on his arrival: 'Well, what luck?'"

"Why, splendid luck, of course," he replied. "Didn't the boy bring that dozen bass I gave him?"

"Mrs. Smith started. Then she smiled. 'Well, yes, I suppose he did,' she said. 'There they are.'"

"And she showed poor Smith a dozen bottles of Bass ale."—Washington Star.

Wonderful Henry.

"Carve!" exclaimed the gushing new wife. "Oh, Henry carves just too lovely! You ought to see him out the sausage, and when it comes to carving the croquettes, he is simply just au fait!"—Browning's Magazine.

Or Vice President.

Crawford—Has he much of a reputation as a statesman?
Crabshaw—So-so. Every presidential campaign he gets mentioned as a dark horse.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bad habits. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child—the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties day or night.

IN OHIO

Noie Donnelly Indictments.

Toledo, O., Aug. 3.—Judge Michael Donnelly of Napoleon, twice tried in Lucas county for alleged embezzlement in connection with the failure of the Ohio German Fire Insurance company, was freed of five indictments in Lucas county, charging embezzlement and perjury, when they were nolle by County Prosecutor Webster.

Caught With the Goods.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 3.—Harry, alias Tom Davis, one of four men arrested on the charge of having bogus money and alleged wire-tapping outfits in their possession, threw a grip which, the police say, contained $75,000 of bad money, into the Ohio river while being brought from Newport, Ky., across the Central bridge to Cincinnati.

Boosts McKinley Memorial.

Niles, O., Aug. 3.—The six-day campaign to raise $100,000 for a McKinley memorial library and auditorium closed with $54,070 subscribed. Among the subscriptions received at the windup was $100 from President Taft.

May Involve Elevated Men.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Strike action of the street car men is on. Leaders of the car men's union say that the sentiment of the men indicated clearly that the result of the ballot will be a walkout. The election follows the refusal of the street car companies to grant a wage increase, and the refusal of the men to accept a renewal of the old contracts.

1913 CHALMERS 'THIRTY-SIX' IS HERE!

15 Notable Features Of 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six"

Electric Lights
Turkish Cushions
Eleven-inch Upholstery
Nickel Trimmings
New Flush-sided Bodies
Speedometer
Improved Springs

Chalmers Self-starter
Long Stroke Motor
Demountable Rims
Increased Wheel Base
4-Forward Speed Transmission
Big Wheels and Tires
Dual Ignition System
Carburetor Dash Adjustment

BIGGER, better, more beautiful, more comfortable and convenient than ever, the 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six" is ready for you. We invite you to see it at our show rooms.

You owe it to yourself, before purchasing any motor car, to see the new "Thirty-Six" with all its striking improvements and added features. Think of a car at $1850, offering all the conveniences and luxuries listed below—features heretofore found only on some of the most costly automobiles:

Electric Lighting.

the last touch of luxury, is regular equipment on the 1913 "Thirty-Six." Just touch a switch on the dash and you can light at will, head, tail and side lights. No hunting for matches or gas tank key. No getting out of the car in dust and mud.

The Gray & Davis System, which we use is featured on some of the highest priced cars. We believe it is the best lighting system built.

Chalmers Self-Starter—

A season's use has proved this the simplest and most efficient starting device yet designed. You simply press a foot button on the dash and compressed air released from a tank beneath the car, turns over the motor until it starts on its own power. No more cranking. No danger. No stain on the motor.

Continental Demountable Rims

reduce tire trouble to the minimum. Occasional punctures you MAY have are no longer a serious inconvenience. With demountable rims you can change tires in a few minutes.

Turkish Cushions—

Luxurious comfort is built into every detail of this car. Cushions are of the Turkish type. 11 inches thick, soft as a down pillow.

The Upholstery

is of the luxurious, overstuffed type. All seats are wide, stuffed with high grade hair and covered with heavy soft pebble-grained leather. The Chalmers "Thirty-Six" gives you the same restful comfort as a big arm chair.

New Flush-sided Bodies—

Chalmers "Thirty-Six" has always been known for its "looks." The 1913 model is even more beautiful than in the past. Flush-sided, metal bodies have the graceful bell-shaped back. Dash is of one piece with body. Top of hood and sides of body form one line from radiator to rear seat.

Handsome Nickel Trimmings

will be regular equipment. Leather lining throughout the car and on the dash leaves nothing to scratch or mar. Twenty-one coats of paint and varnish give a finish that cannot be surpassed.

The Wheel Base

has been increased to 118 inches. This, together with the improved springs, still further increases the easy riding qualities of the car.

Big 36"x4" Tires

carry the car smoothly over the roughest roads. The "Thirty-Six" is "over-tired," which means less tire expense.

A Reliable Speedometer,

a jeweled instrument of the magnetic type, is regular equipment.

New Style Chalmers Dash—

On the dash are carried all controls and indicators needed for convenient operation of the car—ignition switch, self starter button, electric light switch, speedometer, gasoline pressure pump, carburetor adjustment, air gauge, oil sight feed, priming lever, horn bulb—all easy to see and easy to reach.

with all these noteworthy improvements in the way of added comfort, convenience and beauty, the well-tried mechanical features which made this car such a marked success, have been retained; such features as long stroke motor (4¼" x 5¼"), 4-forward speed transmission, dual ignition, genuine honeycomb radiator, large breaks, frame and steering connections of extra weight and strength.

More Than Ever,

the "Thirty-Six" for 1913 is an all-round motor car. It has power in abundance, speed, hill-climbing ability and rugged endurance to meet the utmost demands.

First offered to buyers last year, this car has proved the most popular ever sold at the price. The 1913 refinements and improvements make it even greater value than before. For style, good looks, and reliable service, it is not surpassed.

CHALMERS "SIX," $2300.

For those who desire even a larger car of the 6-cylinder type, we announce the 1913 Chalmers "Six"—at the remarkable price of $2300 for the 5-passenger model; $2500 for the 7-passenger model.

This car is equipped with electric lights, Chalmers self-starter, demountable rims, Turkish cushions, 11-inch upholstery; nickel trimmings beautiful new-design bodies; big wheels and tires. It is in every respect the maximum car—and a wonderful value.

We shall have a Chalmers "Six" to show you a little later.

NEW SELF-STARTING "30," $1500

The famous Chalmers "30" with improved motor, Chalmers self-starter, 34"x4" tires, demountable rims, beautiful new body, offers for 1913 a greater value than ever before.

The $1500 price includes also gas lamps and oil lamps, Prest-O-Lite tank, dual ignition, full tool equipment. Two body types are offered: 5-passenger touring car, $1500; 4-passenger torpedo, $1500.

BUILT IN CHALMERS SHOPS.

In offering these 1913 Chalmers cars we wish to call particular attention to the fact that Chalmers cars are built almost entirely in Chalmers shops, by Chalmers workmen, under Chalmers inspection.

This is not an announcement of anything new, but it is an important fact for the purchaser of a motor car to consider.

Chalmers Company builds its own motors, transmissions, axles, self-starters, steering gear, and other important parts. Experts will tell you that no car is built with greater care or more skillful workmanship than the Chalmers; none is subjected to more careful and painstaking inspection.

BACKED BY SOUND GUARANTEE.

Chalmers cars are built and guaranteed by a company of the soundest financial standing; a company which maintains a plant covering thirty acres of ground, and has $6,000,000 invested in its business.

The last season, 1912, was "another Chalmers year." It set a new record of Chalmers sales. Forty-three per cent more cars were sold than in the previous season. The reason for this is that people are coming more and more to appreciate quality at a medium price instead of quality at high prices or mere quantity at low prices.

We believe the more automobiles come into use, the greater will be the conviction that it does not pay to save $300 to $500 on the original price and buy something merely because it is offered at a low figure.

Medium priced cars of quality—notably the Chalmers—offer the best value for the money in the long run—and you don't have to run very long to find it out.

ORDER NOW FOR EARLY DELIVERY

Now is the time to order your car so that you can get the use of it during the best motoring season.

We urge you to see the 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six" at our showrooms. If you look this car over carefully we are sure it will more than bear out our every claim. Again we say, compare Chalmers cars with other cars—point by point—price by price—value by value. Your verdict is sure to be favorable to the Chalmers.

The "Workin' Stiff."

"He is one of the army of unskilled laborers easily mobilized on any of a variety of industrial frontiers," write Charles Phelps Cushing and Arthur Killick in the issue of Harper's Weekly—"an army estimated now at half a million, content to do the hardest sorts of toil at wages so low that not more than one man in a thousand saves anything." When he gets into trouble the "stiff's" hands are his best credentials. "Look at his hands, sergeant," the magistrate says. "The police court bailiff feels their palms and makes one of two permissible answers, 'Soft as a baby's, yer Honor!' or 'Hard as nails, sir.'"

Must Keep Hens Off Streets.

Bangor now has a "hen law." The city government has enacted a new ordinance which prohibits hens from running at large within a mile and quarters of the postoffice. This was apparently a joke when it was introduced, but it developed that the city government was alive with sufferers from foraging hens, and the measure went through amid much applause. People who do not look after their hens are now subject to prosecution and fine, upon complaint.—Kennebec Journal.

Senate Passes Lodge Resolution Behind Closed Doors.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The United States senate issued a warning to the nations of the world against encroachment upon the continents of North and South America. The United States will not see without grave concern, said the senate, any suitable naval or military site pass into control of a foreign corporation, when such possession might threaten the communications or the safety of the United States.

So vital were the issues discussed in the Lodge resolution, which set forth the policy of the United States as to points situated like Magdalena Bay, in Lower California, that the doors of the senate were closed for three hours while the resolution was debated in secret session. It finally passed with only four votes against it.

NO MORE RUNNING SORES.

Brown's Drug Store Sells an Ointment Called San Cura That is a Positive Cure.

It matters not how old, persistent or poisonous the sore is, San-Cura Ointment, the powerful antiseptic, will draw out every particle of poison and promptly heal the sore.

So sure of this are the owners, the Thompson Medical Co., that they have authorized Brown's Drug Store to return the purchase price if San Cura Ointment doesn't do all this paper says it will do. No fairer offer was ever made.

B. D. Dutton, Titusville, Pa., says: "My arm was covered with twenty-four running sores and swollen to twice its natural size. San Cura Ointment removed the pain, drew out the poison and healed the arm in an incredibly short time. It is the greatest compound for healing I ever used."

The mighty healing powers of San Cura Ointment are little short of marvelous. It gives instant relief, and is guaranteed to cure salt rheum, eczema, bleeding, itching or protruding piles, ulcers, boils, carbuncles, chapped hands, and chilblains. For cuts, burns, scalds and bruises, it stops all pain quickly and heals promptly. 25c and 50c a jar. By mail on receipt of price, if your drug-stall is out of it or does not keep it.

San Cura Soap.

For tender, itching or irritable skin, wash with San Cura, the only antiseptic soap that soothes and heals, and kills all germs of disease. It will cure pimples, blackheads, and make the complexion clear and attractive. 25c at Brown's Drug Store.

Bass That Didn't Bite.

Police Commissioner Rhineland, Waldo, of New York, was praising the efficiency of the New York police force.

"The force wasn't always so efficient," he said. "In Byrne's day police protection ended at Forty-second street; you could do as you pleased after that. But the crook who should now try to do as he pleased anywhere at all in New York would be as badly left in his expectation of immunity as my friend Smith was left the other day in his dozen bass."

"Smith the other day went fishing. He caught nothing, so on the way back home he telephoned to his provision dealer to send a dozen bass round to his house."

"He got home late himself. His wife said to him on his arrival: 'Well, what luck?'"

"Why, splendid luck, of course," he replied. "Didn't the boy bring that dozen bass I gave him?"

"Mrs. Smith started. Then she smiled."

"Well, yes, I suppose he did," she said. "There they are."

"And she showed poor Smith a dozen bottles of Bass ale."—Washington Star.

Wonderful Henry.

"Carve!" exclaimed the gushing new wife. "Oh, Henry carve just too lovely! You ought to see him cut the sausage, and when it comes to carving the croquettes, he is simply just as fast!"—Browning's Magazine.

Or Vice President.

Crawford—Has he much of a reputation as a statesman?
Crabshaw—So-so. Every presidential campaign he gets mentioned as a dark horse.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child—the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

IN OHIO

Nolle Donnelly Indictments.

Toledo, O., Aug. 3.—Judge Michael Donnelly of Napoleon, twice tried in Lucas county for alleged embezzlement in connection with the failure of the Ohio German Fire Insurance company, was freed of five indictments in Lucas county, charging embezzlement and perjury, when they were nolle by County Prosecutor Webster.

Caught With the Goods.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 3.—Harry, alias Tom Davis, one of four men arrested on the charge of having bogus money and alleged wire-tapping outfits in their possession, threw a grip which, the police say, contained $75,000 of bad money, into the Ohio river while being brought from Newport, Ky., across the Central bridge to Cincinnati.

Boosts McKinley Memorial.

Niles, O., Aug. 3.—The six-day campaign to raise $100,000 for a McKinley memorial library and auditorium closed with $54,070 subscribed. Among the subscriptions received at the windup was $100 from President Taft.

May Involve Elevated Men.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Strike action of the street car men is on. Leaders of the car men's union say that the sentiment of the men indicated clearly that the result of the ballot will be a walkout. The election follows the refusal of the street car companies to grant a wage increase, and the refusal of the men to accept a renewal of the old contracts.

1913 CHALMERS 'THIRTY-SIX' IS HERE!

BIGGER, better, more beautiful, more comfortable and convenient than ever, the 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six" is ready for you. We invite you to see it at our show rooms.

You owe it to yourself, before purchasing any motor car, to see the new "Thirty-Six" with all its striking improvements and added features. Think of a car at $1850, offering all the conveniences and luxuries listed below—features heretofore found only on some of the most costly automobiles:

Electric Lighting.

the last touch of luxury, is regular equipment on the 1913 "Thirty-Six." Just touch a switch on the dash and you can light at will, head, tail and side lights. No hunting for matches or gas tank key. No getting out of the car in dust and mud.

The Gray & Davis System, which we use is featured on some of the highest priced cars. We believe it is the best lighting system built.

Chalmers Self-Starter—

A season's use has proved this the simplest and most efficient starting device yet designed. You simply press a foot button on the dash and compressed air released from a tank beneath the car, turns over the motor until it starts on its own power. No more cranking. No danger. No stain on the motor.

Continental Demountable Rims

reduce tire trouble to the minimum. Occasional punctures you MAY have are no longer a serious inconvenience. With demountable rims you can change tires in a few minutes.

Turkish Cushions—

Luxurious comfort is built into every detail of this car. Cushions are of the Turkish type, 11 inches thick, soft as a down pillow.

The Upholstery

is of the luxurious, overstuffed type. All seats are wide, stuffed with high grade hair and covered with heavy soft pebble-grained leather. The Chalmers "Thirty-Six" gives you the same restful comfort as a big arm chair.

New Flush-sided Bodies—

Chalmers "Thirty-Six" has always been known for its "looks." The 1913 model is even more beautiful than in the past. Flush-sided, metal bodies have the graceful bell-shaped back. Dash is of one piece with body. Top of hood and sides of body form one line from radiator to rear seat.

Handsome Nickle Trimmings

will be regular equipment. Leather lining throughout the car and on the dash leaves nothing to scratch or mar. Twenty-one coats of paint and varnish give a finish that cannot be surpassed.

15 Notable Features Of 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six"

Electric Lights
Turkish Cushions
Eleven-inch Upholstery
Nickle Trimmings
New Flush-sided Bodies
Speedometer
Improved Springs

Chalmers Self-starter
Long Stroke Motor
Demountable Rims
Increased Wheel Base
4 Forward Speed Transmission
Big Wheels and Tires
Dual Ignition System
Carburetor Dash Adjustment

The Wheel Base

has been increased to 118 inches. This, together with the improved springs, still further increases the easy riding qualities of the car.

Big 36"X4" Tires

carry the car smoothly over the roughest roads. The "Thirty-Six" is "over-tired," which means less tire expense.

A Reliable Speedometer,

a jeweled instrument of the magnetic type, is regular equipment.

New Style Chalmers Dash—

On the dash are carried all controls and indicators needed for convenient operation of the car—ignition switch, self starter button, electric light switch, speedometer, gasoline pressure pump, carburetor adjustment, air gauge, oil sight feed, priming lever, horn bulb—all easy to see and easy to reach.

with all these noteworthy improvements in the way of added comfort, convenience and beauty, the well-tried mechanical features which made this car such a marked success, have been retained; such features as long stroke motor (4 1/4" x 5 1/4"), 4-forward speed transmission, dual ignition, genuine honeycomb radiator, large breaks, frame and steering connections of extra weight and strength.

More Than Ever,

the "Thirty-Six" for 1913 is an all-round motor car. It has power in abundance, speed, hill-climbing ability and rugged endurance to meet the utmost demands.

First offered to buyers last year, this car has proved the most popular ever sold at the price. The 1913 refinements and improvements make it even greater value than before. For style, good looks, and reliable service, it is not surpassed.

CHALMERS "SIX," $2300.

For those who desire even a larger car of the 6-cylinder type, we announce the 1913 Chalmers "Six"—at the remarkable price of $2300 for the 5-passenger model; $2500 for the 7-passenger model.

This car is equipped with electric lights, Chalmers self-starter, demountable rims, Turkish cushions, 11-inch upholstery, nickle trimmings beautiful new-design bodies; big wheels and tires. It is in every respect the maximum car—and a wonderful value.

We shall have a Chalmers "Six" to show you a little later.

NEW SELF-STARTING "30," $1500

The famous Chalmers "30" with improved motor, Chalmers self-starter, 34" x4" tires, demountable rims, beautiful new body, offers for 1913 a greater value than ever before.

The $1500 price includes also gas lamps and oil lamps, Prest-O-Lite tank, dual ignition, full tool equipment. Two body types are offered: 5-passenger touring car, $1500; 4-passenger torpedo, $1500.

BUILT IN CHALMERS SHOPS.

In offering these 1913 Chalmers cars we wish to call particular attention to the fact that Chalmers cars are built almost entirely in Chalmers shops, by Chalmers workmen, under Chalmers inspection.

This is not an announcement of anything new, but it is an important fact for the purchaser of a motor car to consider.

Chalmers Company builds its own motors, transmissions, axles, self-starters, steering gear, and other important parts. Experts will tell you that no car is built with greater care or more skilful workmanship than the Chalmers; none is subjected to more careful and painstaking inspection.

BACKED BY SOUND GUARANTEE.

Chalmers cars are built and guaranteed by a company of the soundest financial standing; a company which maintains a plant covering thirty acres of ground, and has $6,000,000 invested in its business.

The last season, 1912, was "another Chalmers year." It set a new record of Chalmers sales. Forty-three per cent more cars were sold than in the previous season. The reason for this is that people are coming more and more to appreciate quality at a medium price instead of quality at high prices or mere quantity at low prices.

We believe the more automobiles come into use, the greater will be the conviction that it does not pay to save $300 to $500 on the original price and buy something merely because it is offered at a low figure.

Medium priced cars of quality—notably the Chalmers—offer the best value for the money in the long run—and you don't have to run very long to find it out.

ORDER NOW FOR EARLY DELIVERY

Now is the time to order your car so that you can get the use of it during the best motoring season.

We urge you to see the 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six" at our showrooms. If you look this car over carefully we are sure it will more than bear out our every claim. Again we say, compare Chalmers cars with other cars—point by point—price by price—value by value. Your verdict is sure to be favorable to the Chalmers.

The "Workin' Stiff."

"He is one of the army of unskilled laborers easily mobilized on any of a variety of industrial frontiers," write Charles Phelps Cushing and Arthur Killick in the issue of Harper's Weekly—"an army estimated now at half a million, content to do the hardest sorts of toll at wages so low that not more than one man in a thousand saves anything." When he gets into trouble the "stiff's" hands are his best credentials. "Look at his hands, sergeant," the magistrate says. "The police court bailiff feels their palms and makes one of two permissible answers, 'Soft as a baby's, yer Honor!' or 'Hard as nails, sir!'"

Must Keep Hens Off Streets.

Bangor now has a "hen law." The city government has enacted a new ordinance which prohibits hens from running at large within a mile and

quarters of the postoffice. This was apparently a joke when it was introduced, but it developed that the city government was alive with sufferers from foraging hens, and the measure went through amid much applause. People who do not look after their hens are now subject to prosecution and fine, upon complaint.—Kennebec Journal.

Eighteen Miles of Sanitary Sewers, Pumping Station and Large Filtration Beds Required to Insure Proper Disposal of All Sewage and Protect Health of the City—Definite Action Is Promised Within Month, and a Vote on Bond Issue Will Probably Be Held in November.

At the special session of Council Friday night the important question of building a sanitary sewerage system was taken up and discussed at some length, and indications now are that at the general election in November the citizens will vote upon the question of issuing bonds for building the system.

All members were present and a few visitors listened to the discussion. President E. J. Light stated that the object of the meeting was to investigate the feasibility of calling for a bond issue to construct a sanitary sewerage system as ordered by the State Board of Health.

Councilman Durant opened the discussion by asking if a sanitary system is necessary and if so how much the bond issue would call for, and when submitted to the voters.

Member McLean was of the opinion that there was no question but that the system was needed, and stated that he thought the question should be submitted to the people whether it required $75,000 or $100,000. He asked the City Solicitor if the election could be held with the Constitutional Amendment election on September 3rd, but it was ruled that it would require until about the middle of September if council acted at once.

Rothrock expressed the belief that the Sanitary System was necessary, and thought it would be best to make a further investigation as to probable cost, and whether the system should be constructed in its entirety, or only a portion constructed at first and the remainder later. He mentioned Portsmouth laying sanitary sewers in the alleys and having the storm sewers in the streets, and that Portsmouth has 40 miles of brick streets. He also stated that whenever improvements were made the city required the laying of lead water pipes from the mains to the curb line, and where iron connecting pipes existed, these were taken up and the lead pipes substituted at the expense of the city.

Before closing his remarks he stated that in his opinion a committee should make a complete investigation and report at an early meeting.

Durant then stated that he recently called at the Engineering Department of the State Board of Health, and that his attention was called to the plans for the sanitary system which were made by Engineer Kennedy and approved by the State Board of Health. He also read a letter from the Superintendent of sewers of Ashland, Ohio, in which it was stated that 17 miles of sewer had been laid at a cost of $70,000, and that a gravity system was used. He pointed out that the system here would be more expensive, owing to the intercepting or trunk sewer, and installation of a pumping station and filtration plant.

A short recess was taken while the members examined the plans drawn about a year ago by Frank M. Kennedy.

It was found that the system constructed along the plans and specifications of Engineer Kennedy would cost approximately $100,000, and that some 18 miles of sewers would be required. The pumping station and disposal works would cost approximately $21,700, so that the sewers alone would cost nearly $80,000.

The elevation not being sufficient, a pumping station, to be located on Elm street near the bridge over Paint creek is necessary to lift the sewage to a sufficient height to dispose of it on the filtration beds 1300 feet further south near the intersection of Paint and the East Fork.

The intercepting, or trunk sewer would extend from the pumping station along the north side of Paint creek to a point near the Union station, and thence east on Paint street to North street. Three main sewers would empty into it from west and south, one south of the B. & O. bridge, one north of the West Court street bridge, and one near the Sycamore bridge. These sewers would cross the creek.

After the recess Rothrock moved that a committee make a complete investigation and report not later than September 1. Rothrock, Durant, and McLean were named. Durant protested against being a member, but was retained.

Rothrock then introduced a motion asking that an ordinance be drawn by the Solicitor and presented at the next meeting, making it compulsory for all new water pipes, or all water pipes being repaired, to be of lead from the water main to the curb line. This was asked in order that it will not be necessary to tear up the streets to repair leaks. Durant tried to get more definite action on the sewer question, but a motion to adjourn was made; and adjournment taken accordingly.

Let Hymns Be Spontaneous.

Music has long been notoriously a provoker of discord. Once in my news-hunting days I suffered the ignominy of a "scoop" on a choir rumpus, and I thereupon formed the habit of lending an anxious ear to rumors of trouble in choir lofts. The average ladder-like Te Deum, built up for the display of the soprano's vocal prowess, has always struck me as an unholy thing. I even believe that the horrors of highly embellished offertories have done much to tighten purse strings and deaden generous impulses. The presence behind the pulpit of a languid quartet praising God on behalf of the bored sinners in the pews has always seemed to me the profanest of anomalies. Nor has long contemplation of vested choirs in Episcopal churches shaken my belief that church music should be an affair of the congregation.—Meredith Nicholson in the Atlantic Monthly.

MR. JONES AT CHURCH.

"Mary did you see Mr. Jones in church, Sunday?"
"Yes Grace, and I hardly recognized him, as I thought he was bald or nearly so. What has he done?"

"Well Mary, Mrs. Jones told me that he has been using Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream and he is so pleased he can't talk about anything else."

"If people would only take care of their hair, keep the scalp free from dirt, dandruff and itching scales, with this English Tonic, Herb Shampoo, an abundance of healthy hair would be the result."

"I know a lot of people who are using Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream. They are all so enthusiastic over it. Blackmer and Tanquary, our local druggists, sell it; 25c a tube, enough for three or four shampoos." They will return your money if you don't like it.

Walls That Don't Transmit Sounds.
Experiments have recently been carried out in Germany with the object of discovering methods and means for rendering walls and ceilings capable of effective resistance to sound transmission. One of the more recently devised methods involves the use under the ceiling, or parallel to the wall, as the case may be, of a network of wire stretched tightly by means of pulleys secured into adjacent walls and not touching at any point the surface to be protected against sound.

Upon the wire network is plastered a composition formed of strong glue, plaster of paris and granulated cork, so as to make a flat slab, between which and the wall or ceiling is a cushion of confined air. The method described is said to be good in two respects: first, the absence of contact between the protective and protected surfaces, and, secondly, the colloidal nature of the composition recommended for the plaster.

New York's Language Need.
A protest against the neglect of German in New York has been made to the board of education by citizens of German descent, who ask also for the appointment of a supervisor of modern languages. The modern language most necessary in New York just now is English, and in justice to the schools we must remember that to a majority of New York's four million it is a foreign language. Probably no city in the history of the world has had so huge and heterogeneous an alien population to deal with.—Springfield Republican.

Inauspicious Honeymoon.

A dramatic interruption to a honeymoon occurred the other day in a leading restaurant at Brejenz, on Lake Constance, Switzerland. After the wedding ceremony the happy couple had escaped from their relations and friends and ordered a good lunch. When the dessert was served, a handsome young woman walked up to the bridegroom and accused him of filting her, and also of taking a large sum of money from her by false promise of marriage. On the bridegroom attempting to excuse himself his former sweetheart became angry and thrashed him in the restaurant, taking away his money, watch and chain, and even his new wedding ring. Then she commanded him to follow her to the nearest police station, where she repeated her accusations, and on the bridegroom confessing to the facts he was formally arrested. The unfortunate young "wife," who was so shocked by the terrible scene that she nearly fainted, was taken home to her parents.

Why Will They?
"I'll from eating ptomaines." My! How that headline clings. Say, I often wonder why people eat such things.

An Overflow.

"What became of that five-foot shell of yours?"
"Tore it down," replied Farmer Corn-tassel. "Why, I couldn't get the department of agriculture's publication for six months in that space."

A charming affair enjoyed by the younger girls yesterday afternoon was a "Kensington," given by Miss Margaret Marks in honor of Misses Lillian and Mildred Beatty, of Atlanta, Ga.

Twenty-five girls found the afternoon one of versatile pleasure, guessing contests, informal music and a delicious two-course luncheon contributing to its success.

A white and yellow color scheme was artistically carried out in the decoration, big bunches of golden glow tied with white gauze ribbon particularly harmonious with the mural effects.

Miss Mark was looking very pretty in an embroidered white gown, with yellow sash, and the Misses Beatty were wearing beautiful lingerie gowns of white with blue girdles.

Assisting in the afternoon's hostilities were Mrs. Fred M. Mark,

Miss Ruth Mark and Miss Hazel Gillespie. Miss Reed, of Battle Creek, Michigan, Miss Briggs, of Springfield, Miss Marjorie Smith, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, Miss Grace Walz, of Baltimore, Md., were out of town guests.

The Elks have issued invitations for their Twenty-fifth Annual Mid-Summer Dance, Thursday evening, August fifteenth, at the Pythian Castle, Washington C. H., Ohio. Hoffman's Orchestra will furnish the music.

Messrs. Clark Gossard, Gerrie Spragg, and Arthur Burgertt, the Elks' social session committee, have the ball in management.

The Elks' mid-summer dance with the influx of guests for the fair is always one of the notable social affairs of the summer season and eagerly anticipated by society buds and beaux.

Ohio Live Stock Shows A Startling Decrease

All Live Stock, Except Swine, Shows Marked Decrease and It Is Believed They, Too, Have Followed Decline—Fayette Is Heaviest Loser in Number of Swine.

A tabular statement just issued by the Auditor of State shows the number of domestic animals in the state to be: horses 825,613; cattle, 1,286,276; mules, 25,637; sheep 2,355,448 and hogs, 1,569,563. All animals show a decided decrease with the exception of hogs, which are given at 14,209 above the number last year, but indications are that the list is padded.

Sheep show a decrease of 347,356 and the number of cattle has decreased at an alarming rate, the number dwindling 86,363 and horses 24,944, while mules follow with a decrease of 2,000.

The remarkable part is that each year since 1908 until this year, horses, cattle, mules and sheep have increased in large numbers, and hogs have decreased. That the figures given are more or less unreliable, there is reason to believe. For instance, last year the increase in horses was given as 22,803 and this year the decrease is placed at 24,944, a variation of nearly 50,000.

In 1911 hogs had decreased 36,852, and last year when the epidemic of cholera was the worst in history, and when hundreds of thousands of undersized animals were thrown upon the markets and the farmers were afraid to attempt to restock their farms, the "increase" is given at 14,209.

Since 1908 Fayette county cattle have dropped from 23,637 to 13,203, although the number of cattle in the state has increased from 1,306,994 to 1,372,639 in 1911, but dropped back to 1,286,276 in 1912.

A few years ago Fayette stood first in the number of hogs owned within the county, but she has dropped far back in the middle rows with the less wealthy counties. A great many counties show substantial gains in the number of hogs since last year, and Fayette is given as the heaviest loser, although Clinton county shows a loss of more than 10,000.

North Wall Is Sixteen Feet High

The north wall of the Masonic Temple building has been built to a height of some sixteen feet, and it is almost as high as it can be constructed until the structural steel arrives.

The other walls will be built to the same height before the steel arrives, and all work will then depend on the arrival of the much delayed steel.

"Dale" Appears in Heavens Tonight

"I can see your big sign clear down here," jokingly wrote a friend from Alabama to Will E. Dale a few days ago, regarding the mammoth sign on top of the Dale store. This eight-foot letter attraction will be lighted for the first time tonight, and will be visible for miles in all directions.

Workmen have been busy completing the last arrangements, and tonight "DALE" will stand out clear and distinct in the heavens, making a new epoch in the history of local advertising, and reflecting the progressiveness which has characterized the Dale store since it came into existence.

Watch for "DALE" tonight.

Monster Oil Well Drilled

The Logan Gas & Fuel Company which recently commenced the work of leasing oil lands in Ross county has just drilled in a well at Union Furnace, Hocking county, which is said to be the biggest produce struck in Ohio this year.

The output of the well is being kept secret and agents are leasing every foot of land obtainable. Everybody connected with the company is in high spirits. A great deal of oil stock is held by local citizens, but whether any of them are fortunate enough to hold in the Logan company, is not known.

Union Furnace is a small town situated on the Hocking Valley railroad, and is noted for the fine brick plant of the Columbus Brick and Terra Cotta Company.

Domestic Pets.

A healthy dog, living a natural and healthy life—not the life of the pampered inmate of a household—is a distinct asset in a household.

He not only helps to smooth the rough places and give us interests and protection, but very often he compels his owners to take their due share of exercise and lead more open air lives than they would do if left to themselves.

We owe him a heavy debt of gratitude and we should lose no opportunity of doing him a good turn, but the lady who lets her pet eat from her own plate, sleep in her own bed, even teaches him to take morsels from her own lips, frequently kisses her pet's muzzle, and allows him to lick her face with equanimity in return, is severely warned.

These, says a well known doctor, are most dangerous practices when one realizes how all dogs perform their own toilettes and where they poke their muzzles, and also how the germs of certain disease may be transmitted.

The Oldest Egg.

Not so long ago a party of explorers, members of the Archaeological society of Mayence, found, during their excavations in the ancient Moguntiacum, a hen's egg which was estimated to have been buried for something like nineteen centuries.

Moguntiacum was built by Drusus, the son of the Roman Emperor Augustus, in the year 14 B. C. Upon the site of the ancient Roman castrum or encampment near the city the excavations in question brought to light many interesting relics, including some water cisterns of Roman make. It was in one of these, which was located twenty feet below the ground, that a damaged Roman clay pot was found containing the shell of a broken egg and also a whole egg that had been kept from being smashed by a shroud of the damaged pot, which covered it. The ancient egg was turned over to the municipal museum.—Harpers Weekly.

Women Knights.

It is not at all well known that knighthood has constantly been conferred upon women. Many English ladies received the accolade and many more were members of such knightly orders as the Garter and St. John. When Mary Cholmondeley, "the bold lady of Cheshire," was knighted by Elizabeth for "her valiant address," on the queen taking the command at the threatened invasion of Spain, did she know that a whole city of Spanish women, the gallant women of Tortosa, had been knighted for saving that city from the Moors? Mary and Elizabeth had both been knighted at their coronation, but by the time Anne, the second Mary, and Victoria ascended the throne it had been quite forgotten that according to English law and use a woman who filled a man's office acquired all its privileges and was immune from none of its duties.

Confusion of Effects.

"They didn't," admitted Mr. Stormington Barnes. "When we played tragedy the box-office receipts were a farce, and when we played farce they were a tragedy."

TRAVELER'S TALES.

A gentleman whose travel talks are known throughout the world tells the following on himself:

"I was booked for a lecture one night at a little place in Scotland four miles from a railway station.

"The 'chairman' of the occasion, after introducing me as 'the mon wha's coom here tae broaden oor intellects,' said that he felt that a wee bit of prayer would not be out of place.

"Oh Lord," he continued, 'put it intae the heart of this mon tae speak the truth, the hale truth, and naething but the truth, and gie us grace tae understan' him.'"

"Then, with a glance at me, the chairman said, 'I've been a traveler myself!'"—Lippincott's.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Clerk of the Board of Education of Washington City School District, Fayette county, Ohio, in the city of Washington Court House, Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon, of August 15th, A. D., 1912, for the purchase of bonds of the said school district, in the aggregate sum of thirty thousand ($30,000.00) dollars, dated August 15th, A. D., 1912, and issued for the purpose of completing the partially built High School Building and Grade School Building, and under and by authority of a resolution of said Board of Education, duly passed on the 19th day of July, 1912, and under and by authority of the laws of the state of Ohio and of Sections 7625, 7626, 7627 and 7628 of the General Code of Ohio. Said bonds shall be made payable to bearer, and will bear date of sale and interest at the rate of four (4) per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of March and September of each year, evidenced by coupons attached thereto, and will become due and payable as follows:

Two of said bonds payable on the first day of each March, beginning March 1st, 1916, up to and including the year 1945.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest and best bidder, for not less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery. All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross amount of bid and accrued interest to date of delivery, and shall be accompanied with a certified check, payable to the treasurer of the City of Washington, Ohio, for 5 per centum of the gross amount of bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth, within ten days from the time of award; said check to be retained by said Board if said condition is not fulfilled.

Said board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Bids should be sealed and endorsed: "Bids for School Bonds."

IN SOCIETY

A charming affair enjoyed by the younger girls yesterday afternoon was a "Kensington," given by Miss Margaret Marks in honor of Misses Lillian and Mildred Beatty, of Atlanta, Ga.

Twenty-five girls found the afternoon one of versatile pleasure, guessing contests, informal music and a delicious two-course luncheon contributing to its success.

A white and yellow color scheme was artistically carried out in the decoration, big bunches of golden glow tied with white gauze ribbon particularly harmonious with the mural effects.

Miss Mark was looking very pretty in an embroidered white gown, with yellow sash, and the Misses Beatty were wearing beautiful lingerie gowns of white with blue girdles.

Assisting in the afternoon's hospitalities were Mrs. Fred M. Mark, Miss Ruth Mark and Miss Hazel Gillespie.

Miss Ruth Mark and Miss Hazel Gillespie, Miss Reed, of Battle Creek, Michigan, Miss Briggs, of Springfield, Miss Marjorie Smith, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, Miss Grace Walz, of Baltimore, Md., were out of town guests.

The Elks have issued invitations for their Twenty-fifth Annual Mid-Summer Dance, Thursday evening, August fifteenth, at the Pythian Castle, Washington C. H., Ohio. Hoffman's Orchestra will furnish the music.

Messrs. Clark Gossard, Gerrie Spragg, and Arthur Burger, the Elks' social session committee, have the ball in management.

The Elks' mid-summer dance with the influx of guests for the fair is always one of the notable social affairs of the summer season and eagerly anticipated by society buds and beaux.

Ohio Live Stock Shows A Startling Decrease

All Live Stock, Except Swine, Shows Marked Decrease and It Is Believed They, Too, Have Followed Decline—Fayette Is Heaviest Loser in Number of Swine.

A tabular statement just issued by the Auditor of State shows the number of domestic animals in the state to be: horses $25,613; cattle, 1,286,276; mules, 25,637; sheep 2,355,448 and hogs, 1,569,563. All animals show a decided decrease with the exception of hogs, which are given at 14,209 above the number last year, but indications are that the list is padded.

Sheep show a decrease of 347,356 and the number of cattle has decreased at an alarming rate, the number dwindling 86,363 and horses 24,944, while mules follow with a decrease of 2,000.

The remarkable part is that each year since 1908 until this year, horses, cattle, mules and sheep have increased in large numbers, and hogs have decreased. That the figures given are more or less unreliable, there is reason to believe. For instance, last year the increase in horses was given as 22,803 and this year the decrease is placed at 24,944, a variation of nearly 50,000.

In 1911 hogs had decreased 36,852, and last year when the epidemic of cholera was the worst in history, and when hundreds of thousands of undersized animals were thrown upon the markets and the farmers were afraid to attempt to restock their farms, the "increase" is given at 14,209.

Since 1908 Fayette county cattle have dropped from 23,637 to 13,203, although the number of cattle in the state has increased from 1,306,994 to 1,372,639 in 1911, but dropped back to 1,286,276 in 1912.

A few years ago Fayette stood first in the number of hogs owned within the county, but she has dropped far back in the middle rows with the less wealthy counties. A great many counties show substantial gains in the number of hogs since last year, and Fayette is given as the heaviest loser, although Clinton county shows a loss of more than 10,000.

Shooting a Great Butterfly

Down in New Guinea is found a giant butterfly which the scientists have named the Troides Chimera and which the natives catch by shooting it with a four-pronged arrow, the same weapon that is used to kill small birds. The immense insects also are trapped in nets made of spiders' web. A noted collector recently spent seven weeks in one place before he could obtain a male specimen.

Slayers Hide In Mountains

They waited for the murderers of Herman Rosenthal to slip into the sunlight from their mountain retreats.

Close-mouthed as usual both the commissioner and Deputy Commissioner Dougherty were obviously elated over the flash from the Catskills. Detectives Cassanova and McKenna were rushed north on a West Shore train. Dougherty gave instructions to the police chiefs of the mountain towns. Headquarters was awake and hustling.

Posed as Farmhand.

It was taken as a fact that the territory around which the central office men and the deputy sheriffs have drawn a cordon is the southwest end of Delaware county and the north-west corner of Ulster county—the retreat in which Whitey Lewis, who was brought here and held for murder, was locked up by Detective James F. Harvey, who posed as a farmhand, while Lewis was pretending to be a chauffeur out of work.

It is a pleasant mountain country and it has been for years the resort of Manhattan gamblers and gangsters, who spent their money there in the summer months. A slip of the tongue by Harry Vallon, an admission from Bridgie Webber and the incautiousness of the friends of the men wanted for the murder transferred the hunt from New York to the mountains. Since Sunday, July 18, the pick of Dougherty's detectives have been searching this territory.

Late on Thursday afternoon a short fat man with bright blue eyes, a shock of light hair and a pleasant smile, was on his way from a boarding house in Fleischmanns to the Delaware & Eastern railroad station. A farmhand who had been perched on a rail fence slid to the road, strolled up to the fat man and grabbed him by the shoulder. The stout person pulled away with a curse. "What's the matter with you, you rube?" he said.

The farmhand removed the big straw hat that had been pulled well down over his face. "Hello, Whitey," he said, amiably. "Going to New York?"

"Good night!" said the fat man. "I might have known it. You're Detective Harvey, aren't you? I know your face."

Each Side Confident In Claim Of Success

porters of the president or for Wilson champions to attempt to give a resemblance between the Roosevelt third party movement and the gold Democratic movement of 1896.

Several in the Roosevelt camp said that without the slightest doubt Roosevelt will prove on election night to be three times stronger than General Weaver was in 1892. In that event Roosevelt would get 66 votes in the electoral college. Inasmuch as there are 531 votes in the college this year that would leave to be divided between Taft and Wilson 485 votes, and inasmuch as the successful candidate must receive 266 votes, neither Taft nor Wilson might have the necessary majority and the election might be thrown into the house of representatives.

Former Senator Beveridge of Indiana stated that the state convention at Indianapolis was the most spirited gathering held in Indiana in years. Mr. Beveridge added that a thousand Indiana Republicans attended the convention and the delegates were made up of many of the best-known bankers and business men of the state, and Mr. Beveridge believes he is to be elected governor.

Perkins Talks of Money.

Mr. Perkins was here, there and everywhere. He believes Roosevelt will be elected in November, and that plenty of money will be raised to finance the campaign.

It is known, though, that preliminary polls in other states taken by the Taft managers indicate that there has been a marked change from the Roosevelt primaries in the spring and early summer months, and that Taft has been gaining rapidly. In other words, thousands upon thousands of Republicans who preferred Roosevelt as their presidential candidate have determined to abide by the result of the regular Republican national convention and are to again record their fidelity to their party. It is contended for the Taft side of the argument that the excitement of the preliminary national campaign was all spent with the adjournment of the Democratic national convention and that since that date affairs have gradually taken on a quietude from which it will be difficult to arouse the people. The further contention of the Taft people is that the ante-convention primaries were responsible for the excited situation of the country. It was in those primaries that the voter found vent for his enthusiasm, and it is insisted that from now on he will calmly weigh the claims of all parties and candidates and will vote as his judgment dictates.

NEGROES ARE OUSTED

Roosevelt Writes Open Letter to Friend in South.

New York, Aug. 3.—Colonel Roosevelt sent to Julian Harris of Atlanta, Ga., an open letter reading southern negroes out of the National Progressive party. He frankly entrusts the movement to the "best white men of the south." He attributes the recent split in the Republican party to the dominance of negroes over the party in the southern states. He says it would be "criminal" for the Progressive party to try to build itself up in those states by the same methods which, continued for 45 years, have made the Republican party "worse than impotent." "All that could possibly result from such action," says the colonel, "would be to create another little faction of would-be office-holders, of delegates whose expenses to conventions had to be paid, and whose votes sometimes had to be bought."

He hopes the negro will get justice eventually, but says justice is impossible "if we are to continue and perpetuate present conditions." He points out that negro delegates from northern states will attend the Chicago convention, and says that in those states the Progressive party is endeavoring to act with fuller recognition of the rights of the colored man than ever the Republican party did.

WOMAN CAUGHT RED HANDED.

A woman was caught red handed last Tuesday. There was nothing sensational about it. All she had done was to do her washing with cheap, common yellow laundry soap, and the result was, as it always is, that her hands were cracked and chapped and chafed until they were sights. Easy Task soap relieves a woman of so much rubbing and dipping the hands in the water that no harm results. As a matter of fact, Easy Task soap is good to wash the hands with. It won't hurt the most delicate skin any more than the finest lace.

Shooting a Great Butterfly

Down in New Guinea is found a giant butterfly which the scientists have named the Troides Chimera and which the natives catch by shooting it with a four-pronged arrow, the same weapon that is used to kill small birds. The immense insects also are trapped in nets made of spiders' web. A noted collector recently spent seven weeks in one place before he could obtain a male specimen.

They waited for the murderers of Herman Rosenthal to slip into the sunlight from their mountain retreats.

Close-mouthed as usual both the commissioner and Deputy Commissioner Dougherty were obviously elated over the flash from the Catskills. Detectives Chasness and McKenna were rushed north on a West Shore train. Dougherty gave instructions to the police chiefs of the mountain towns. Headquarters was awake and hustling.

Posed as Farmhand.

It was taken as a fact that the territory around which the central office men and the deputy sheriffs have drawn a cordon is the southwest end of Delaware county and the north-west corner of Ulster county—the retreat in which Whitey Lewis, who was brought here and held for murder, was locked up by Detective James F. Harvey, who posed as a farmhand, while Lewis was pretending to be a chauffeur out of work.

It is a pleasant mountain country and it has been for years the resort of Manhattan gamblers and gangsters, who spent their money there in the summer months. A slip of the tongue by Harry Vallon, an admission from Bridle Webber and the incautiousness of the friends of the men wanted for the murder transferred the hunt from New York to the mountains. Since Sunday, July 18, the pick of Dougherty's detectives have been searching this territory.

Late on Thursday afternoon a short fat man with bright blue eyes, a shock of light hair and a pleasant smile, was on his way from a boarding house in Fleischmanns to the Delaware & Eastern railroad station. A farmhand who had been perched on a rail fence slid to the road, strolled up to the fat man and grabbed him by the shoulder. The stout person pulled away with a curse. "What's the matter with you, you rube?" he said.

The farmhand removed the big straw hat that had been pulled well down over his face. "Hello, Whitey," he said, amiably. "Going to New York?"

"Good night!" said the fat man. "I might have known it. You're Detective Harvey, aren't you? I know your face."

porters of the president or for Wilson champions to attempt to give a resemblance between the Roosevelt third party movement and the gold Democratic movement of 1896.

Several in the Roosevelt camp said that without the slightest doubt Roosevelt will prove on election night to be three times stronger than General Weaver was in 1892. In that event Roosevelt would get 66 votes in the electoral college. Inasmuch as there are 531 votes in the college this year that would leave to be divided between Taft and Wilson 485 votes, and inasmuch as the successful candidate must receive 266 votes, neither Taft nor Wilson might have the necessary majority and the election might be thrown into the house of representatives.

Former Senator Beveridge of Indiana stated that the state convention at Indianapolis was the most spirited gathering held in Indiana in years. Mr. Beveridge added that a thousand Indiana Republicans attended the convention and the delegates were made up of many of the best-known bankers and business men of the state, and Mr. Beveridge believes he is to be elected governor.

Perkins Talks of Money.

Mr. Perkins was here, there and everywhere. He believes Roosevelt will be elected in November, and that plenty of money will be raised to finance the campaign.

It is known, though, that preliminary polls in other states taken by the Taft managers indicate that there has been a marked change from the Roosevelt primaries in the spring and early summer months, and that Taft has been gaining rapidly. In other words, thousands upon thousands of Republicans who preferred Roosevelt as their presidential candidate have determined to abide by the result of the regular Republican national convention and are to again record their fidelity to their party. It is contended for the Taft side of the argument that the excitement of the preliminary national campaign was all spent with the adjournment of the Democratic national convention and that since that date affairs have gradually taken on a quietude from which it will be difficult to arouse the people. The further contention of the Taft people is that the ante-convention primaries were responsible for the excited situation of the country. It was in those primaries that the voter found vent for his enthusiasm, and it is insisted that from now on he will calmly weigh the claims of all parties and candidates and will vote as his judgment dictates.

NEGROES ARE OUSTED

Roosevelt Writes Open Letter to Friend In South.

New York, Aug. 3.—Colonel Roosevelt sent to Julian Harris of Atlanta, Ga., an open letter reading southern negroes out of the National Progressive party. He frankly entrusts the movement to the "best white men of the south." He attributes the recent split in the Republican party to the dominance of negroes over the party in the southern states. He says it would be "criminal" for the Progressive party to try to build itself up in those states by the same methods which, continued for 45 years, have made the Republican party "worse than impotent." "All that could possibly result from such action," says the colonel, "would be to create another little faction of would-be officeholders, of delegates whose expenses to conventions had to be paid, and whose votes sometimes had to be bought."

He hopes the negro will get justice eventually, but says justice is impossible "if we are to continue and perpetuate present conditions." He points out that negro delegates from northern states will attend the Chicago convention, and says that in those states the Progressive party is endeavoring to act with fuller recognition of the rights of the colored man than ever the Republican party did.

WOMAN CAUGHT RED HANDED.

A woman was caught red handed last Tuesday. There was nothing sensational about it. All she had done was to do her washing with cheap, common yellow laundry soap, and the result was, as it always is, that her hands were cracked and chapped and chafed until they were sights. Easy Task soap relieves a woman of so much rubbing and dipping the hands in the water that no harm results. As a matter of fact, Easy Task soap is good to wash the hands with. It won't hurt the most delicate skin any more than the finest lace.

A Moneyed Man.

A local jeweler was waiting on a stock broker when in came a farmer. He immediately turned the broker over to the shop boy and took charge of the farmer.

NEWS AND COMMENT WORTH WHILE

Weekly Sport Letter

By C. H. Zuber

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 3, 1912.

By the time the Reds return from their present Eastern trip they will have been sufficiently reorganized to give the home fans a class of sport that has not been staged on the local grounds since the first month of the season. New pitchers have joined the team during the week in the persons of Moore, Gregory, and Frill, and the prospects are that one or two deals will be pulled off during the sojourn of the team on foreign territory that will give further strength where it is needed. As a result of these changes it is expected that the team will speedily climb back into the first division, with a good prospect of overtaking Pittsburgh before the end of the schedule is reached. Rumors that the club management is dickering for Bill Sweeney, of the Boston, and Miller Huggins, of St. Louis, with the view of having one of these men manage the team next season, are strenuously denied by President Herrmann. He realizes that lack of pitching strength, and a batting slump, are responsible for the recent slide of the Reds.

Scout Heinie Peitz, of the Reds, who has spent much of his time among the players of the minor leagues declares that the crop of prospective stars among the bushes is extremely small this year. The best men on the minor league circuits this year are those who have been sent back by the big league clubs, declares Peitz. New blood that looks able to hold its own in fast company is extremely scarce, so that there promises to be less experimenting next spring than there has been in previous years. The Reds have one star coming back in Almada, the Cuban third baseman of the Birmingham team, and also have closed for two high class pitchers in Buck and Packard, of Columbus, the latter a left-hander. I have seen but few really good outfielders, while catchers that look the art are equally scarce. However, the Reds are well supplied in both these departments. What they need is infielders and pitchers and it begins to look as if they would be well supplied.

The fight for leadership in both the National and the American leagues has gotten closer during the past week. In the National the Chicago, by winning the series from the Giants in New York, moved up within 100 points of McGraw's men, while in the American the Washington, by capturing a pair of double headers on Saturday and Sunday lunched up on the Boston, whose lead has cut down to considerable under 100 points. The New Yorks, during their series here last week, again demonstrated that they are not a high class team, so far as the work of the individuals is concerned. Where they shine is in obeying the orders of McGraw, who keeps them on the jump all the time, taking chances and getting away with them. He keeps their confidence screwed up to the highest point, and these elements are what are keeping the team going so well. If the Giants do win the pennant in the National it is not conceivable that they will be the favorites in the betting in the world's series.

If Jack Johnson is more truthful in his assertions regarding his retirement from the ring than he is in giving testimony regarding his auto speeding, the pugilistic arena will see the big colored man no more.

Johnson, who has promised to retire after Labor Day, now announces that he is through with the ring forever. He declares that there isn't enough money to be made at the fighting game any more to justify him in doing the hard work necessary to prepare for a fight, and so he will drop fighting right now, and devote himself entirely to his business. His retirement will bring on a number of battles between bum bruisers, all of whom will claim the world's championship.

While few of the real stars of the American Olympic team have returned to the United States, those who are back have been given such enthusiastic welcomes as to leave no doubt as to the popularity of the victories of "Our Boys" in the big world's meet. A magnificent reception and banquet will be given all of the American participants in the games at New York the latter part of August. It is in this occasion, too, that Mike Murphy, considered the greatest developer of athletes of this or any other time, will make his farewells as Olympic trainer. He feels that he is getting too old to undertake the work four years hence, and so well suggest the appointment of his successor. Murphy has done wonders for athletics in America and will always be given credit for the great success achieved by the U. S. in recent Olympic games.

Are't these fighters getting particular? Here Jack Johnson retires from the ring because prospects for $30,000 purses are scarce, and Ad. Wolgast declares that he will never again fight for less than $10,000 because he "always gets hurt in these fights for small purses." What are these fighters in the ring for, anyway? Do you expect to secure decisions, carrying with them $10,000 or more, simply for tapping the other fellow on the wrist, or rumping his hair? Getting a good beating formerly was one of the payments that fighters had to pay for pulling down a stake. According to Wolgast's theory, the man who goes into a fight to get hit is foolish. It is only the fellow who cops the coin without getting hurt or hurting the other fellow who is wise. But the general public thinks differently, and will hardly stand for "fights" of the kind Wolgast prefers.

My Worst Blunder

FAMOUS "BONEHEAD" PLAYS ON MAJOR LEAGUE DIAMONDS

Explained by Leading Baseball Players to

HUGH S. FULLERTON

By JACK LELIVELT.

Former Utility Man Washington Team, and One of the Hardest Hitters in the Business, Now Starring in International.

The worst mistake I ever made was in trying to be too wise as an outfielder. I would have gotten away with it clean and saved a ball game, but for the stitches on the ball, and if I had it would have won instead of lost a game for Washington.

The team was all shot to pieces and we were shifting men around and around to try to keep a respectable club in the field. Every day some one would get sick or get hurt, and they chased me from infield to outfield, from right to left and from first all around the infield, looking for some place where I could play, I guess. I had played left field only a few times, but one day while waiting out there I hit on a scheme. The stands on the old grounds came out into left until the corner of the seats was only about six feet from the foul line, and often fair balls would hit inside of third base, curve out, just miss the corner of the stands and disappear entirely, rolling out of sight of the umpire and infelider down a hill to the fence. No one could see after the ball passed that corner where it went. Before going out to play left I would hunt up a couple of fair practice balls and plant them along the seats on the ground for use in case anyone hit the ball down that way. We were playing Detroit and had the Tigers beaten by one run late in the game, when Deleahanty came to bat and whipped a hit down just inside of third. I tried hard to get over to cut it off before it could pass the corner of the stands, and for an instant I thought it would hit the boards and angle out. It just skimmed past the corner and went on, and I went in pursuit. I ran out of sight, dug one of the hidden balls out of the grass, ran out and threw to third, driving Del back to second. The ball he had hit was rolling down toward the fence, and I think I could have stopped him at third had I gone after it. I felt pretty good until the pitcher got the ball and I heard Jennings yell

New York, Aug. 3.—When the Reds did hit the ball hard they had trouble in keeping it away from the fielders. They made only five hits off Tesreau and were shut out for the second time in the series.

League balls to practice with and the stitches on those balls are all one color, while on the American league balls they are red and white. I had thrown in a National league ball and we didn't have a chance even to argue the case.

HOW TOM MCCARTHY SAVED A FLAG

IN a moment of mild curiosity, a casual spectator at any of the major or big minor league games in the country should ask some neighbor whose hair shows a sprinkling of silver to name the best, or one of the best outfielders he ever saw, the reply would be likely to surprise the aforesaid spectator. It certainly would if the latter's interest in the game is of recent origin. No automobile winners, past, present or prospective, would be named. The silver haired one might recall a broad shouldered, rather stocky, quiet party, who had most amazing speed and judgment while in the field; a man who possessed a keen eye, wielded a most powerful bludgeon, was modestly reluctant in acknowledging cheers, and ignored entirely an occasional gibe.

In short, he would hardly think of anyone who better fitted the specifications than Tom McCarthy. McCarthy of Boston. McCarthy of the firm of Nichols, Duffy, Long and Company, who won championships so many years in succession that Boston came to be known as the home of the pennant. Fans of other cities gave up hope and used to go out to see the champions when the Bostonians came to town, as they would to a menagerie, to see the strange animals.

Now and then some upstart organization would be taken with pennant fever, and for a time the champions would get good exercise. This malady broke out in the early weeks of the season, and by July 4 was well spent, but in 1893 the Philadelphia team under the management of Henry Wright had a very serious attack. As the season advanced the spell grew on the Phillies, until numbers of the Quaker fans began to believe that precedent would be broken and Philadelphia win a pennant. Vain hope. McCarthy, the ruthless, rushed swiftly in to extreme left center field on the afternoon of September 30, and as the sound of a fierce line drive from the bat of Pitcher Taylor died out, and the ball was seen to settle in Mac's gloved hand, the dream was dispelled and the Quakers woke up.

It was none too soon. The slugging Phillies had given the home team a strong argument. They had already scored four runs in the ninth inning off "Kid" Nichols, and the bases were full when Taylor, batting for Bob Allen, hit the ball. The loss of the game would almost certainly have cost Boston the flag, as the season had only a few days to run. McCarthy's catch saved it. Boston's next pennant was won in 1897, and Tom was still on the job.

In spite of the shameless desecrations of recent years, the faithful Boston fans repair to the South End grounds—one of the nurseries of organized ball—and as they recall the familiar scenes of triumph the green of the old field is fair to look upon.

Wreck 36 Years Ago Is Recalled

Thirty-six year ago John W. Vogle, proprietor of the Big City Minstrels, which will appear here next Friday night, was a newsboy on the C. H. & D. railway passing through Washington. Doug. Christopher at the same time was a baggage master on the road. Coming out of Chilli-cothe one day, a great storm flooded the country and a bridge was washed away, resulting in a wreck, in which the engineer, Biddy Connors, and the fireman, Frank Kinnick, were crushed to death. The passengers escaped injury but were severely shaken up. On the train was the Dan E. Theatrical company, and Mr. Vogle mentioning the incident in Mr. Christopher's hearing led him to remark: "I was in it, too, but my injuries were only a scare." Then the two talked over the tragic happenings of 36 years ago. They had never met since till this week. Vogle was a boy then, and his change into a vigorous, stalwart man was rather staggering to Christopher's remembrance of him. Only an incidental remark led to their mutual recognition.

Handsome Improvements Completed

The new front put in the Gregg Shoe Store in the Creamer Block is now completed and challenges the attention of the passerby as presenting an attractive and metropolitan entrance as is found in far larger cities.

Mr. Creamer has certainly made a very handsome improvement to Court street.

The vestibuled front, surmounted by prism glass set in copper, is of quarter sawed oak, the large plate glass windows mounted on a marble base, trimmed with copper, the tile floor is tastefully inlaid.

Last night for the first time, the opalescent center globe in the center and the iridescent lights of the how windows brilliantly illuminated the front and drew flattering comments from every one on the street.
